Presents

The How-To for leading club nights

Not all clubs are lucky enough to have a tutor every week, or your teacher may like or need to have a night off every now and then. If you've ever thought you might like to help out at your club by briefing a dance or more, then come along to this free workshop and find out how to plan a club night, lead a warm-up, deal with 'difficult' club members and so much more. More experienced briefers and teachers are also welcome to come.
