Parking in Palmerston North

Information below is largely lifted from the Palmerston North City Council webpage at the following link;
<https://www.pncc.govt.nz/Services/Parking/Parking-in-Palmerston-North>

Parking is not free in central Palmerston North from Monday to Saturday – there are meters and vigilant parking wardens. Parking is free, however, after 3.00pm on Saturday. Also, there is free parking if you park a block or so away from the centre.

Chargeable hours at the meter

- Monday to Friday: 8.30am to 5.30pm
- Saturday: 11am to 3pm

Parking fees

- On-street: $2.50/hour
- Off-street at PNCC car parks: $1/hour or $5/day

Pay at the meter using coins or card, or use the Frogparking mobile app. It allows you to make payments from wherever you are in the city, so you don't have to return to your car.

Parking fees and time limits are subject to change. The fee and time restrictions are clearly displayed on the meter's screen. Please read the screen before making a purchase to ensure you pay for the time intended – especially at the off-street car parks.

Find a Council carpark

Most metered parks in Palmerston North are within the inner-city ring road, i.e. the area around Te Marae o Hine the Square, inside Pitt, Ferguson, Princess, Walding and Grey Streets. There are lots of Council car parks outside this area which are free.

Always check the blue P signs to see if a carpark is subject to a time limit. Any restrictions are indicated on the sign. For example, P60 means you can park for 60 minutes. When a fee applies, the sign will have P$ on it, indicating you must pay at the meter.

Use the interactive map to see all Council parks and time limits. The map also shows the location of mobility and motorbike parks. Please click on the 'Legend' tab to find out what the various colours mean.

All day parking

Park for as long as you like in meters signed P$ All Day. Simply pay for as long as you want to stay.
